

April 21, 1989

To Our Clients:

The Pill in Canada

At their annual meeting, the shareholders of INCO rejected a proposal seeking redemption of the rights plan previously approved at a special meeting at which the shareholders voted on a single resolution to adopt the pill and pay a $10 special dividend. INCO has large institutional ownership. The technique and the vote may well be instructive for U.S. companies.

M. Lipton